

Welcome

Over two weekends in September, Merton Arts Festival is covering the borough with art! From Wimbledon Park to Colliers Wood, Merton Park to Raynes Park, Mitcham to Morden, artists are throwing open their doors to welcome visitors.

In homes and studios you'll find an amazing variety of artworks by painters and printmakers, jewellers, textile and glass artists, ceramicists and sculptors - and more. It's an opportunity to learn how they make their work, and to buy direct from the maker.

Again this year, we have a Festival theme. Reflection & Transformation has produced a great response from artists, the results of which will be displayed in a series of specially-curated group exhibitions.

We invite you to make your own discoveries. Why not think about walking or cycling, or using public transport, designing your own trail with the help of this map? Cut through green spaces such as Morden Hall Park on your way to Phipps Bridge Studios. Or stroll across Wimbledon Common to The Windmill and Cannizaro Studios. Wander along the Wandle to Lombard Road Studios, where you will find 14 artists exhibiting. Perhaps round off your day at the friendly Sultan pub, also hosting artists?

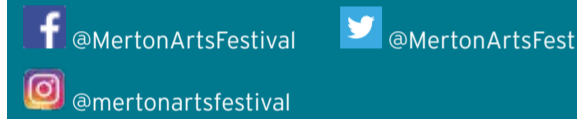

There's so much to enjoy. Information given here is correct at the time of printing. For the latest news and updates (including any last minute changes), please check the website www.mertonartsfestival.org

It's been fun, and a lot of work! Special thanks must go to the extra volunteers we had helping us this year and, importantly, our loyal Festival sponsors.

Your Festival Team
Ben Nicolas, Claire Morgan, Wendy McTernan

How to Use this Guide

Artists' locations are marked on this map. The numbers refer to their individual entry overleaf, which has further details. Use our map together with googlemaps or the A-Z to find your way around.

Love Wimbledon

Merton Arts Festival is pleased to partner with Love Wimbledon on the opening weekend of their Autumn Arts festival, 23-24 Sept.

Look out for artist Paul Tanner who will be running 'Drawing Blind' sessions on the Piazza outside Morrisons, encouraging people to let go of their inhibitions and draw without looking at the paper - fun for children and adults!

Living Wandle

Merton Arts Festival joins with Wandle Valley Fortnight (9-24 Sept) to celebrate the river through art. Wandle Treasures, an illustrated map by Stephanie Theobald, will be on display in Wimbledon Library for the duration of the Festival.

Merton Abbey Mills

Merton Abbey Mills is planning a bumper weekend of events from Fri 22 to Sun 24 Sept, including a film night, children's theatre, live music and chamber concert, community art workshops and activities, and a William Morris-inspired treasure hunt! See the full programme and how to book at www.mertonartsfestival.org

Workshops, Talks & Demos

William Morris and the People of Merton.
Illustrated talk by Dave Saxby and Portia Dadley. Suitable for ages 12+. Weds 20 Sept, 7.30pm at William Morris House, 267 The Broadway, SW19 1SD.

The Representation of Light in Painting
A talk by Nicholas Wyatt. Sun 24 Sept, 4-6pm at the Garden Pavilion, South Park Gardens, SW19 8QW.

Living Art

Anthony Hodgson reveals the story behind the painting, using spoken word, poetry and song. Sat 23 Sept, 7pm at St Mark's Church, St Mark's Place, SW19 7ND.

Demonstration of glass techniques

Ongoing demonstrations, including cutting, leading, warm glass and appliqué. Sun 24 Sept, 1-5pm at Rosie Taylor's Workshop, 28 Faraday Road, SW19 8PD.

Etching Workshop with Chudamani Clowes

Learn how to etch a piece of zinc, and make a print to take home. Cost £20. Places for ten people. 23 & 24 Sept, 2pm-4pm, ACAVA Studios, Global House, 21c Lombard Road, SW19 2TZ. To book, call 07966 677625 or email chudclowes@yahoo.co.uk

Make a silver ring with Bea Jareno

In this workshop we will learn all the basic jewellery-making techniques from forging, filing, soldering, saw cutting to cleaning and polishing - and you will walk away with a wonderful silver ring. Only two spaces per session, price £100 per person per three-hour session, including materials. 23 & 24 Sept, 10.30am-1.30pm and 2-5pm, ACAVA Studios, Global House, 21c Lombard Road, SW19 2TZ. To book, call 07830 159745 or email info@beajarenojewellery.com

THEMED OPEN EXHIBITIONS

Reflection & Transformation

See how artists have brilliantly engaged with this year's theme in our specially curated exhibitions at locations around the borough. These are marked RT on the map. Some venues are open midweek as well.

- The Craft Gallery, The Apprentice Shop, Merton Abbey Mills, SW19 2RD. Open: Thurs - Fri, 10.30am-4.30pm, Sat-Sun 10am-5pm (map ref: E3)
- The Garden Pavilion, South Park Gardens, SW19 8QW. Open both weekends, 11am-5pm. (map ref: D2)
- Merton Arts Space, Wimbledon Library, Compton Road, SW19 7QA. Exhibition open: Saturdays 11am-5pm. Mon-Fri 18-22 Sept 2pm-7pm (map ref: C2)

Don't miss the chance to come and see the creativity of Merton's younger artists:

Raynes Park High School, Bushey Road, London SW20 OJL. The school is proud to be displaying work by its A-level, GCSE and lower school students, with a section inspired by the Festival theme. Children from Hollymount primary school are also showing work here, looking back over six decades as part of their 60th anniversary celebrations. Open 23-24 Sept, 11am-4pm. (map ref: B4)

St Mark's Primary School, Mitcham will be exhibiting at Mitcham Library, 157 London Rd, Mitcham CR4 2YR with a small 'exploring drawing' exhibition. Year 4 children have reflected on their classmates and made observational portraits of each other wearing funny disguises to transform their identities! (map ref: F3)

Elliott Wood
241 The Broadway, SW19 1SD (map ref: D2)
A veritable 'tardis' opens up to reveal a hive of industry as you enter this bright office space, impressively developed by structural and civil engineers Elliott Wood. Open for viewing: Sunday 17 Sept (as part of the architecture festival Open House London, booking not required) and Mon-Fri 18-22 Sept, 11-5pm.

Wimbledon Windmill
Windmill Road, SW19 5NR (map ref: B1)
Come and help celebrate the bicentenary of this well-known local landmark, recently transformed by the restoration of its sails (one of which fell two years ago) along with full renovation of the tower and roof. Open for viewing: Saturdays 2-5pm and Sundays 11-5pm. As part of the bicentenary, the museum is offering free admission.

Other locations may be added, so do check the website and look out for the Reflection & Transformation posters at each venue.
